

Purdue University's
2009 High School Guitar Workshop
June 23 – 26, 2009

Spend four fun days this summer making your own custom electric guitar at the High School Guitar Workshop! You'll get to sample the environment at college by staying in the dorms, eating at the dining halls and making guitars with the help of Purdue professors and students. To see what a high school guitar workshop looks like, check out this video: <mms://video.dis.purdue.edu/bns/technology/guitar081002.wmv>

Your day will begin with breakfast at one of the Purdue dining halls (good food, a nice environment and all you can eat) and then a walk to the guitar lab in the Michael Golden Lab building. You'll spend the day learning about manufacturing and making your own custom guitar. We'll break for lunch either on site or at a dining hall and you'll have dinner at a dining hall. You'll be able to spend the evenings playing games, going to the Purdue Recreation Center, going to the Purdue Union for bowling or just hanging out with your new friends.

These workshops are designed to be fun, inclusive, instructive and above all safe. There will be plenty of supervision, but the students need to do their part as well. Any student who is disruptive or refuses to follow the safety rules will be removed from the workshop. If the problem is serious enough, the student will be sent home. It would then be the responsibility of the parent or guardian to make arrangements to pick the student up. If that happens, any registration fee will be forfeited.

The signatures below indicate that you agree to all of the listed terms of the workshop. Parents, your students will be accompanied at all times and chaperones will stay with them in the dorms.
